Dear Harold,

The enclosed article is extremely disturbing if the reader grasps its implications.

Mr Powers, a CIA employee, tries to portray Lee Oswald as an informer whose traitorous acts destroyed The Summit Conference.

But if this is accepted as true, what interpretations are possible?

Only two.

Oswald was either acting on his own or as an intelligence agent.

Upon his return The United States not only took no punitive action against him but they made strong representations of the State Department to permit the entry of his wife!

In other words,
U.S. Intelligence condoned Oswald's actions in ending the hopes of a détente or "The Spirit of Camp David."

Of course, "C.D. 931" remains "classified" and
"C.E. 917," a telegram which describes Oswald as "
"former Marine and - - - has been deleted.

Sincerely,

Edward Williams
